Enter specific events

As an Ancestris user, you often give us special cases of events to capture.

One of the questions from a user today was for example:

> One person was buried, then exhumed before being buried in another village. How to deal with this, knowing that one cannot use an EVEN event as it would result in an error of sequence?

The answer to this question was given in the forum.

Please let us know of other questions of this type and the most relevant answers associated with them.

To be continued then.
