

Main Window

Ancestris's Main Window is the one you see when the software opens.

In case no genealogy is opened, only the Welcome page appears.

If a genealogy opens up, you will see several windows showing different elements of this genealogy.

This window has a title, a menu bar, a toolbar, and a workspace that contains the different views of one or more genealogies on which you are working.

Title

Without genealogy, the title bar looks like this :

If one or more genealogies are open, the title is prefixed with the genealogy name, like this:

If you have several genealogies open, the title indicates the one currently selected.

Menu Bar

The Menu Bar is right below the Title. It lets you access most of the commands, grouped under sub-menus.

Please, see Menu Bar for more information.

Toolbar

The Toolbar is right below the Menu Bar. It contains most commonly used commands, under the form of icons.

It is customizable. To do so, go to menu Options / Configure Toolbars. There you can choose which categories of icons to display.

Please, see Tools Bar for more information.

Workspace

The rest of the main window is your workspace. It is the yellow part of the image below. It is organised in different windows, each one with its own specific function. For example :

- Views display your genealogy along different formats: tree, timeline, charts, lists. By default, these views are located on the left hand part of the screen, or below, which is the case of the entity table.
- Editors allow you to change your genealogy. By default, we can find them on the right hand part of the screen.
- Tools : reports, multimedia management, anomalies checking, duplicates search, etc. are usually on the left hand side of the screen.

General information about the individual

Notes

John F. Kennedy's charismatic personality was evident from early childhood, as was his competitiveness. His love of books and history, capacity for introspection and curiosity about ideas developed largely from the many hours he spent in bed with illnesses, starting with a particularly virulent attack of scarlet fever when he was two and one-half years old. Although he was often absent from school and illness forced him to drop out of a preparatory school and later, Princeton University, he graduated cum laude from Harvard University in 1940.
